- a. Required raw material to produce above coils will be procured from Bhushan Steel Ltd. (now Tata Steel BSL) in form of CRCA coated steel and Glue in form of coil will be procured from Meneta Advanced Shims Denmark;
- b. Then these coil (Bare Coil and Glue in form of coil) are processed together under controlled conditions on customized machine called Lamination Machine. Photographs/ process also attached by the unit;
- c. The output as per above defined process are checked by quality team and they are responsible to put the tag and called as Glued Coil in the Industry;
- d. After verification by quality the said coil will be slited into required size as per customer demand and called as slited glued coil in Industry.
- e. Previously they were buying this material from Meneta Advanced Shims Denmark.

4.1) Unit has also submitted following documents:-

- (i) Process flow-chart of the proposed items ;
- (ii) Linkage of the proposed items with old approved items- that both will be used in motor vehicle in Braking Systems of motor vehicle;
- (iii) Unit has also submitted that no other capital goods are required for proposed items.

5) Shri Ranbir Singh and Shri Sanjay Goyal, Manager of the unit present before the Committee. Shri Goyal informed that they are a Denmark based company and are having two units in EOU scheme since 2007 engaged in manufacturing of components of Anti Noise Shim. Shri Goyal informed that their turnover is approx. Rs.350.00 corres and approx 1500 people are working in their two units. Shri Goyal also informed that mostly they are procuring raw material indigenously from Tata Steel BSL but are also importing some raw material.

6) Shri Goyal informed that for manufacturing of these proposed products, they will use raw material jumbo coil and special glue in hard form and as per process flow-chart and photographs provided by the unit, a new product will be produced by use of machines. Hence it falls under definition of manufacture in terms of para 9.31 of FTP.

7) The committee noted that manufacture of (i) Coated Steel (Mother Coil With Glue) and (ii) Coated Steel (Glued Slited Coil) is covered under definition of manufacture in terms of para 9.31 of FTP and can be allowed to be included in the existing LOP. However, Coated Steel (Non Glued Slited Coil) will not fall under the definition of manufacture in terms of para 9.31 of FTP and therefore cannot be allowed.

8) The Committee, after due deliberations, approved the proposal of broad banding of LOP by inclusion of following items in the existing LOP:-
